

JOHN ADAMS BIRTHPLACE (NPS)

133 Franklin Street, Quincy

John Adams, signer of the Declaration of Independence, principal author of the Constitution, first vice president and second president of the United States, lived here from his birth (1735) until his marriage in 1764. Remarkably similar to the nearby birthplace of his son, it is a frame New England saltbox. Both properties are owned by the City of Quincy and maintained as museums by the Quincy Historical Society.
